SEEK BANDITS WHO HELD UP TRAIN IN CENTRAL ILLINOIS, ROBBING MAILS

U. S. OFFICIALS REFUSE TO SAY EXTENT OF LOOT

FIVE ARE INJURED Greatest Manhunt in Part of State Started—Posse Numbers 500

Paxton, Ills., Nov. 8.—One of the greatest manhunts ever held in central Illinois is in progress today as the result of the daring held up of an Illinois Central passenger train near here. Seven masked bandits who participated in the robbery are being sought by posse numbering more than 500 deputy sheriffs, railroad detectives and citizen volunteers.

The robbers shot and slugged five men, set fire to the mail car and escaped with several sacks of mail. Postal officials today refused to estimate the amount of the loot. Valuable mail shipments are frequent on that train, however and this led to the fear that the amount taken will be large.

Early today the robbers had been traced on a road running west between Paxton and Ludlow. This road would lead to Bloomington and police of that city have been notified. Chicago police also have been notified to watch roads leading into the city from the south.

Arthur Moon, a porter who thrust his head out from his car to see what all the excitement was about, drew the fire of the bandits. He has two bullet wounds in his body and may die. The others who were wounded are not seriously hurt.

Two of the robbers were passengers on the train, apparently boarding it at Paxton. As the train pulled out of here they donned masks and climbed over the tender to the engineer's cab. They drew guns and compelled Jack Fogarty, engineer, to stop the train.

As the train reached a bridge two and one half miles south of Paxton the robbers forced the engineer to uncouple the engine and the express and mail cars, and drive them a short distance down the track. They then walked to the door of the mail car and commanded the clerks to open it.

Two clerks opened the door and saw the masked men with drawn revolvers. They slammed the door shut again.

"Open that door or I'll blow your head off," one of the bandits yelled.

When the door was opened the robbers compelled Engineer Fogarty to enter the car and throw out the mail sacks. Fogarty switched off the lights in the car but the bandits gathered a pile of waste from one of the journal boxes, placed it on the floor, ignited it and by this weird light sack after sack of mail was tossed into the waiting arms of the bandits.

In the meantime Frank M. Williams, conductor and several others of the train crew had crawled along the bridge from the detached passenger cars and with drawn revolvers, rushed toward the spot where the glare from the ignited mail car was lighting up the night, as the bandits saw them they opened fire.

Alarmed by the onslaught of the trainmen and the spread of the fire in the mail car, the bandits withdrew after a few shots and sped away in an automobile that had been concealed behind bushes near the track.

Trainmen spread the alarm and hundreds of citizens soon had joined in the search for the bandits.

The train, known as the New Orleans Flyer, left Chicago at 6:15 o'clock last night. The robbery occurred about three hours later.

Three thousand are killed in battle.

London, Nov. 8.—Three thousand communists were killed when Ukrainian rebels seized ten Russian towns, according to a Central News dispatch from Helsingfors, quoting the Moscow soviet newspaper Isvestia. Mobilization of bolshevik troops has been ordered by soviet authorities at Odessa, the dispatch said.

DUTCH ARMS DELEGATES ARRIVE

Dr. E. Moresco, Dr. H.A. van Karnebeek, Dr. F.B. van Blokland.

Simply and without the ceremonious greeting that met other distinguished foreign visitors to New York within recent weeks, the official delegation from the Netherlands to the Limitation of Armaments Conference arrived in New York. In the party were Dr. H. A. Van Karnebeek, Minister of Foreign Affairs for the Netherlands; Dr. F. Beelherds Van Blokland, head of the Netherlands Department of Diplomatic Affairs, and Dr. E. Moresco, until lately Secretary-General of the Netherlands Colonial Office.

The grave doubts over Germany's ability to pay the $120,000,000 indemnity installment due the first of the new year increases the peril of France's economic situation.

Debate on the country's financial position likely will last about a fortnight and attacks against the government's financial policy may bring about changes in Premier Briand's cabinet. With the premier in the United States the brunt of defending the ministry falls upon Minister of Finance Doumer.

M. Doumer addressed the chamber of deputies inviting the fullest discussion of all angles of the situation and said he realized that he would be the target for bitter attacks.

The conservatives fell back upon their old policy of urging greater pressure upon Germany.

There is a determined movement in the chamber to reduce the number of government employees.

It is estimated that there is one government employee for every eight inhabitants of the country, including the colonies.

The buying craze continues and every one is converting all paper money into tangible goods. It is anticipated that prices will increase.

The influx of great numbers of foreigners to buy German goods, taking advantage of the depreciation of German money, is causing much dissatisfaction. Some stores refuse to sell to any customers who speak with a foreign accent. Others are planning a special tax on all goods sold to foreigners.

There is much murmuring of discontent below the surface and threats of trouble unless the situation is ameliorated.

Three weeks ago when the American dollar purchased 120 marks those who predicted that the German exchange would go to 200 marks for the dollar were called calamity howlers.

Today glaring headlines announced that an American dollar buys more than 250 marks.

The economic consequences of this situation are incalculable and the gloom and despondency cannot be exaggerated. The German masses, though working feverishly, are nearly ready to throw up their hands in utter despair.

Financiers claim that Germany must secure outside assistance in the form of credits or an actual loan and that the indemnity burden must be lightened. The reparations commission will arrive here from Paris in a few days and Germany will openly place her cards upon the table to show that she is so hard pressed there is little likelihood of her securing gold to meet the indemnity installment due in January. The last reichsbank report shows that there are nearly ninety-nine billion paper marks in circulation. Americans can get an idea of what this means by imagining that the dollar had dropped to less than two cents in value.

"It is a picture of our financial misery which the devil could well hand to hell," said the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung in commenting on the finance minister's budget speech in the reichstag showing that the national deficit amounts to fifty-three billion marks.

A striking fact is that in the midst of all this misery there is scarcely any unemployment in Germany. An official estimate of the maximum number of idle men throughout the country is 100,000.

The opinion expressed by Arthur Von Gwinner, president of the Deutsche Bank, that Germany must collapse, dragging France down with her unless she is assisted, was echoed today by other financiers and business men.

Indescribable pessimism reigns even among those of the nation's leaders who in the darkest days that followed the armistice always held out hope. They too now are in despair.

Washington, Nov. 8.—A determination to place the senate on record for open sessions and complete publicity for the armament conference will be waged by Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho, and Pat Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, before senators attend the opening of the conference, Saturday at the invitation of Secretary Hughes.

In making this announcement, today, Senators Borah and Harrison, said that it is their intention to press for the adoption of a resolution sponsored by the Mississippi senator which would request the American delegation to use its influence to secure the admission of newspapermen to every meeting of the conference.

The resolution also would request the American delegation to use its influence "against every form of censorship" that would prevent the public from being kept informed of whatever occurs to reveal the correct attitude of the nations and delegations toward the questions considered.

A number of Republican and Democratic senators are pledged to vote for the resolution, although both Republican and Democratic leaders of the senate are known to be opposed to it.

SERIOUS CRISIS FACES FRANCE OVER FINANCES

Situation Revealed When Debate Opens in Chamber

INCOME NOT ENOUGH Expenses Double the Total Amount of Revenues It is Shown

Paris, Nov. 8.—The most serious financial crisis in the history of modern France confronted the nation today, it was revealed when debate was opened in the chamber of deputies upon the new budget. The budget is in two sections. The ordinary expenditures for public services and upon the interior debt total two billion dollars. A supplementary budget puts the expenditures for liberated regions and pensions at about one billion dollars additional. The revenues are estimated at $1,500,000,000, not counting money that may be received from Germany.

The grave doubts over Germany's ability to pay the $120,000,000 indemnity installment due the first of the new year increases the peril of France's economic situation.

Is It or Is It Not?

Is this a genuine Leonardo de Vinci or is it a copy? The owner, Mrs. Andre Hahn, of Paris, asserts that it is the original "La Belle Ferroniere," and that the copy which hangs in the Louvre was done by a pupil of the great artist. Mrs. Hahn has brought suit for $500,000 against Sir Joseph Duveen, international art expert who she says, spoiled the sale of the picture to the Kansas City Art Institute by declaring it a copy. The papers in the suit were served on Sir Joseph Duveen in his New York office.

FRANCE TO RESIST EFFORT TO CHECK AIR DEVELOPMENT

Count in Control of Situation
Chief Weapon
Against Germany.

Washington, Nov. 8.—France's delegates will enter the conference Saturday prepared to resist stubbornly any effort to check the development of military aviation in France, it was learned in an authoritative quarter today.

Appreciating fully the desirability of wiping out a part of the enormous expense France is undergoing for the upkeep of her army, Premier Briand would welcome any feasible plan for reducing the military establishment provided France is given sufficient guarantees against Germany. Such guarantees might be in the form of treaties, but even with such safeguards the French people would prefer to have some dependable weapon at hand in case of emergency.

This weapon they believe they have in a well organized and highly trained air service. Germany is recovering rapidly from the effects of the war they argue. The Germans are an energetic and efficient race of seventy or eighty millions, who naturally look with resentment on the indemnity imposed by the allies. To reach France, however, the Germans would have to journey many miles down the long roads which lead from Germany's centers of population to the French border. During the time they were thus exposed, an efficient French air force, with mastery of the air and armed with the latest in bombs and poison gas, would practically have them at their mercy.

Heaviest voting is expected at Cleveland, Dayton and other cities where candidates for municipal offices waged heated campaigns.

Besides municipal candidates and issues, and the three proposed amendments to the state constitution, Ohio voters are asked to vote today for members of county school boards and for local tax assessors.

There has been no active campaign either for or against the poll or redistributing proposals. Members of the American legion are conducting a vigorous campaign in favor of the soldier bonus proposal. The three proposals to amend the state constitution were initiated by the last state legislature.

GENERAL ELECTION TO FOLLOW IF PREMIER OF ENGLAND RESIGNS

If Ulsterites Reject Lloyd George's Proposals for Compromise It Is Likely That Leader Will Consider Tendering His Resignation.

London, Nov. 8.—The possibility that Premier Lloyd George and his cabinet may resign on Friday as a result of the Irish peace crisis, was being discussed in the inner circles of Downing street today.

The premier will confer tomorrow with Sir James Craig and the other members of the unionist cabinet of Ulster and the future course of the British cabinet in the Irish peace negotiations will depend on this meeting.

If the Ulsterites reject the premier's proposals for a compromise and refuse to have any dealings with the Sinn Fein then it is likely that Premier Lloyd George will seriously consider resigning and a general election with Irish peace as the chief issue will result.

In his recent speech in the house of commons, just before receiving a vote of confidence, the premier intimated he might resign if the Unionists succeeded in wrecking the Irish peace conference. The premier's colleagues declared today, however, that he would not resign unless every other resource failed, for it is the one ambition of the premier's life to leave the Irish peace as a legacy to his country when he retires from the government.

The Ulsterites do not attempt to conceal their belief that Lloyd George may "betray" them to the Sinn Feiners. Their opposition has stiffened within the past few days and the breach between the north Ireland unionists and the British cabinet has widened despite the efforts of A. Bonar Law and Sir Edward Carson to bridge it.

At the same time there is a possibility that a split may occur among the Ulsterites. The British premier is a powerful pleader with great powers of persuasion and if he can win the support of the Ulster business men with economic arguments they may bring pressure upon the "Irreconcilables."

The Orange lodge in Ulster are the backbone of the opposition to a compromise. They threatened to bring about Sir James Craig's political downfall if he yields to South Ireland.

Intimates of Premier Lloyd George say that he has made it plain to his colleagues in the government that he will not be responsible for a renewal of warfare in Ireland. If the unionists remain firm in their refusal to make concessions, thus wrecking the peace parley, the premier will issue a statement to the country putting full responsibility upon the unionist party. A general election would follow and every effort would be to continue the Washington, Nov. 8.—The compromise tax revision bill providing for the abolition of the excess profits tax and all transportation levies as of January 1, 1922 and a general reduction in surtax rates was passed by the senate at 1:30 o'clock this morning by a vote of 38 to 24.

In the regular course of procedure the bill would be received by the house during the day for reference to a joint conference of members of the senate and house finance committees but the house was not in session so the measure went to the public printer to be put in form for further consideration by the house when it meets tomorrow.

The senate conferees on the bill are: Penrose, McCumber and Smoot, Republicans; Simmons and Williams, Democrats.

A sharp debate is expected to develop in the house before the tax bill is formally referred to conference. Advocates of the fifty per cent maximum surtax on incomes desire to commit the house conferees to an agreement with the senate on this rate, while others will urge that the house conferees be given a free hand in dealing with changes made in the bill by the senate.

It is estimated that the bill as passed by the senate will yield approximately $3,250,000,000 for the fiscal year ending next June 30, or $200,000,000 less than the present revenue law.

Washington, Nov. 8.—A record vote was looked for by election officials today in the majority election here. It was predicted that 1,200,000 ballots would be cast.

The campaign closed with both sides claiming success by large pluralities. Each camp was confident of the women's vote, which may prove decisive, as 447,000 women are qualified in this city to vote for the first time in a mayoralty election.

Mayor John F. Hylan, Democratic candidate, was assured by his supporters that he would be re-elected with a plurality of about 368,000. The coalition nominee, Henry H. Curran, claimed victory with a 150,000 plurality. Hundreds of watchers have been stationed at the polls to guard against election frauds.

Dayton, Nov. 8.—Mervin Spitzer, 1116 South Main street, Dayton, who was shot a week ago when he and Miss Edith Peters were attacked by an unidentified man near the girl's home in Carromonte, died at the Miami Valley Hospital at 12:35 o'clock, Tuesday morning.

The last minute death-bed information given officers by Spitzer failed to throw any more light on the shooting but with Spitzer's death authorities are re-doubling their efforts to trace the assailant.

URGE DAIRYMEN OF GREENE COUNTY TO MEET SATURDAY

A number of times during the past two or three years an attempt has been made to start something in the way of a Dairy organization in Greene County. Because of legal difficulties, lack of solidarity of opinion and because of lack of organization in counties immediately surrounding, the time did not seem ripe to push such an association.

"Pioneer dairy associations in this state have been successful," County Agent Ford S. Price said, Tuesday. "Nearly 30,000 Ohio dairymen in twenty different associations are reaping the benefits to be obtained by united action in selling dairy products. They have blazed the trail and we now feel safe in going ahead with an organization in this district."

"Accordingly, representative dairymen from Greene and nine other neighboring counties have laid the groundwork by incorporating, the Miami Valley Cooperative Milk Producers' Association, under the Brand and Griswold Act, the most recent laws governing such organizations." To hear this plan explained, the Dairy Committee of the Greene County Farm Bureau is calling a meeting of all Greene County Dairymen in the Assembly Room of the Court House, Saturday afternoon Nov. 12, at 1:30 p. m. E. D. Waid, dairy marketing specialist of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and other live wires will speak.

This general meeting will be followed by local meetings in the Township centers where the plan will be explained further and membership in the new organization taken.

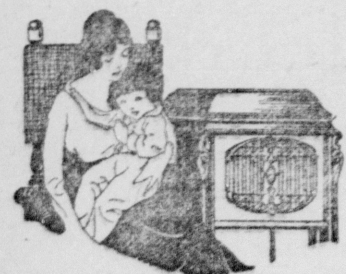

"Tell your neighbors and get them out to this meeting on Nov. 12, so that we may be able to get at the heart of our dairy troubles," is the request of Mr. Price.

AMERICAN LEGION STAGES RALLY FOR COMPENSATION ACT

The American Legion wound up its efforts in behalf of the adjusted compensation act with an old-fashioned rally, Monday night. The Cadet Band from the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, donated by Superintendent Garver, furnished a concert as Legion men paraded on the streets, Monday night. Assembling at the corner of Main and Detroit streets, Dr. C. H. Denner, Commander of Foody Post, from a vantage post on the memorial cannon, delivered an address asking the support of citizens for the bill. Later the entire party went to Cedarville, where the Band played a concert and Dr. Denner delivered another address.

Tuesday, dawned bright and clear for an election day, albeit it appeared unusually quiet. American Legion men in uniform passed out sample ballots at every voting place, marked in favor of the adjusted compensation act. The early vote was not very heavy although there was indication that a normal vote would be cast for an election of this nature.

Election judges and clerks in each precinct are finding their hands full in handling the ballots. There are five different ballots handed to Xenia voters, representing the state amendments, the municipal offices, the township offices, the school board and judicial. Each has to be dropped in a separate ballot box, and in making out the tickets and sorting them, the election officials are earning their salaries.

ADOPTING CHILDREN

One word more as to the clergyman I wrote about yesterday. I've been to his church, and as soon as I can I'm going again and after the service I'm going to stay around until I can find an usher to introduce me, and then I'm going to tell him, right to his face (I don't care how big he is) how much good it is doing me to shake hands with a real man—meaning him.

As to adopting children—in any event, one is taking considerable chances. Children whose parents had insanity, alcoholism, or "blood disease" are very apt to be difficult to bring up, and may give the foster-parents much sadness and little joy. Especially must this be said as to the alcoholic taint. I wouldn't wish to adopt an infant of tuberculous parents although such children may grow very healthy. And you must consider the family history two or three generations back; the father and mother may appear to be perfectly healthy, but how about the grandparents? Sometimes a bad trait skips a generation, this is called atavism.

Apart from such considerations, one has to take chances as to choosing a child for adoption. And, Gentle Reader, please don't think me rude if I state that the adoptors do all the choosing—the baby gets no choice. In New York State people desiring to adopt a child may have it to keep for one year; then if they want to, and they have satisfied the authorities that they have done well by the child, it may become their foster-child for life.

I receive most pathetic letters from childless couples on this subject—couples, who in their early married life preferred "not to be bothered with children for a few years," have violated the laws of God (or of Nature, as you choose) and have, when it has pleased them to have children, found that they could not, and are saddened at the prospect of loneliness in their later years.

To them I must answer that with the reservations stated, adoptions turn out fairly well. I should say so in eight cases out of ten. The dear gentleman in the following instance took all the chances in the lottery and gathered in all the good results that could be expected.

Dr. Elizabeth Blackell who never married and who desired to adopt a child, visited an asylum to this end. They showed her many children. She looked them all over carefully and finally selected the most unpromising and an apparently vicious little girl, explaining her choice thus, "I will take this one because I think she needs me the most."

POLICE OFFICER EXPLAINS CASE

Dayton, O., is Scene of Unusual Come-Back—Narrow Escape Described.

Sergeant Leo A. Goetz, of 313 Wyoming street, Dayton, O., has been connected with the Dayton Police Force for a great many years and is one of the most popular and well-known citizens of Dayton. In an interview recently, Sergeant Goetz explained how he executed a "come back" and escaped from ill health by taking Pepsin, the great reconstructive tonic.

"Since 1896 I've suffered more or less with my stomach," says Sergeant Goetz. "At that time I had a great deal of trouble with my stomach. Afterward I began having attacks of indigestion and finally even had to go on a diet. My nerves became affected and my liver also was out of order."

"During the years I have been experiencing that trouble I have taken many medicines. I am sure I spent several hundred dollars for different preparations but nothing helped me."

"Recently I began to hear a great deal about Pepsin. Well, to make a long story short, I started taking Pepsin and it did me a great deal of good. I can eat a hearty meal now without trouble from my stomach afterward. I have improved generally and, of course, am glad to recommend the medicine that relieved me."

Pepsin brings increased appetite, better digestion, proper assimilation. It ends stomach misery. Those who take Pepsin say they can eat anything without discomfort afterward. Pepsin also tones up the liver and kidneys and soothes the nerves.

Pepsin is a new system tonic which is now being specially introduced at Sayre & Hemphill's.

CUTICURA HEALS SKIN TROUBLE

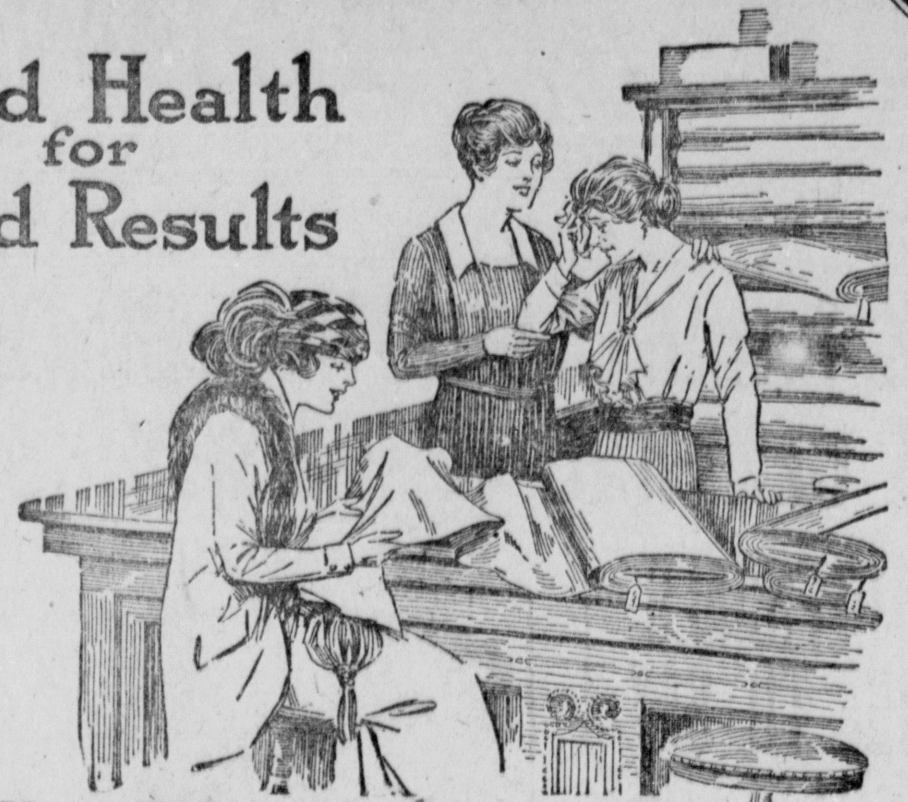

On Baby's Cheek and Chin. Burned and Itched. Face Very Much Disfigured.

"My eight-months-old boy broke out on one cheek and on his chin with dark, reddish spots, and when scratched scales formed. They burned and itched and he rubbed them a good deal, and he would scratch at night and cry. His face was very much disfigured."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I noticed an improvement right away and I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap when he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. P. B. Miller, Box 552, Thayer, Mo., Jan. 26, 1921.

Use Cuticura for all skin troubles. Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden 48, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25c and 50c. Tablets 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without lard.

This Letter Will Tell You How

"I suffered terribly every month, and was always tired and nervous, and had indigestion, and often could not do a thing. I was this way about two years, and had to stay home with my mother. I tried several medicines, then I found a book of yours, and mamma told me to try the Compound. So I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it certainly worked wonders with me. I have six bottles of it, and am still taking it when I feel the need of it. I have already recommended it to a number of working girls, who are taking it. I am working now, and stand up all day and feel fine. I am glad to say that Pinkham's medicine did a lot for me and for my mother, and we only wish we had taken it a long time before."—Rose Schoeff, 4876 Annunciation St., New Orleans, La.

This letter is but one of a great number received every year from women, young and old, and from almost every walk of life. These letters testify to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Schoeff works for her living, but on account of sickness was obliged to stay at home for two years. During this period she suffered terribly at times. She tried several medicines without finding relief. Finally she tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in this letter tells what it did for her.

The Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman. Your livelihood may depend on your health. So try

NAME MEMBERS OF FORUM COMMITTEE OF C. OF C. MONDAY

W. E. Boring, Charles Kelble and Ernest Beatty were made members of the new Forum Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting of the board of directors of that organization held Monday evening.

In connection with the appointment of the new committee, H. A. Higgins, president, announced that it would be impossible to obtain the services of H. S. Shelton, president of the Johnston-Shelton Company, and of the Retail Merchants Association of Dayton, for an address at the banquet to be held soon. Several other possible speakers were considered and the forum committee instructed to get in touch with one.

Judge J. Carl Marshall and J. K. Kenneth Williamson compose the auditing committee appointed Monday night, and Dr. B. R. McClellan and C. A. Weaver were named members of a committee to consider plans for due recognition of Armistice Day.

ROWLAND SEEKING JOB AS FEDERAL PROHIBITION AGENT

The appointment of A. B. Rowland of this city, as federal prohibition agent under State Director Russell may be delayed because of an effort of Congressman S. D. Fess to have Mayor Thomas Donnelly, of Yellow Springs, appointed to that position, according to dispatches from Washington.

It is said that Congressman Fess has been attempting to have Mayor Donnelly appointed prohibition agent in Ohio for three years and that each time something would occur which would block the appointment. This year, it is said, he thought everything was arranged for the appointment when he heard of the candidacy of Rowland for the position.

Dispatches say that the local man has the endorsement of W. E. Halley, and had been recommended for appointment by State Director Russell. According to the dispatches, Commissioner Roy Haynes has agreed to hold up the appointment until Congressman Fess has had opportunity to present the matter directly to Director Russell.

Mr. Rowland, the local candidate for appointment, was formerly connected with the Hoover and Allison Company here.

MRS. E. M. LOWE DIES ON MONDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Lowe, 73, widow of John Lowe, passed away at her home, one mile west of Yellow Springs, Monday evening at six o'clock. Mrs. Lowe had suffered a stroke of paralysis about a year ago, and a second stroke last Thursday resulted in her death.

She was a well-known resident of the vicinity having been born and reared near Yellow Springs. She is survived by three sons, Howard, of Van Wert, Ohio; Charles, of Yellow Springs; and George, of Springfield. One sister, Mrs. Rebecca Weaver of Dayton, also survives. Mr. Lowe preceded his wife in death 12 years ago.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist Church of Yellow Springs. Interment will be made at Glen Forest cemetery.

ASK THAT FLAG BE DISPLAYED ON FRIDAY

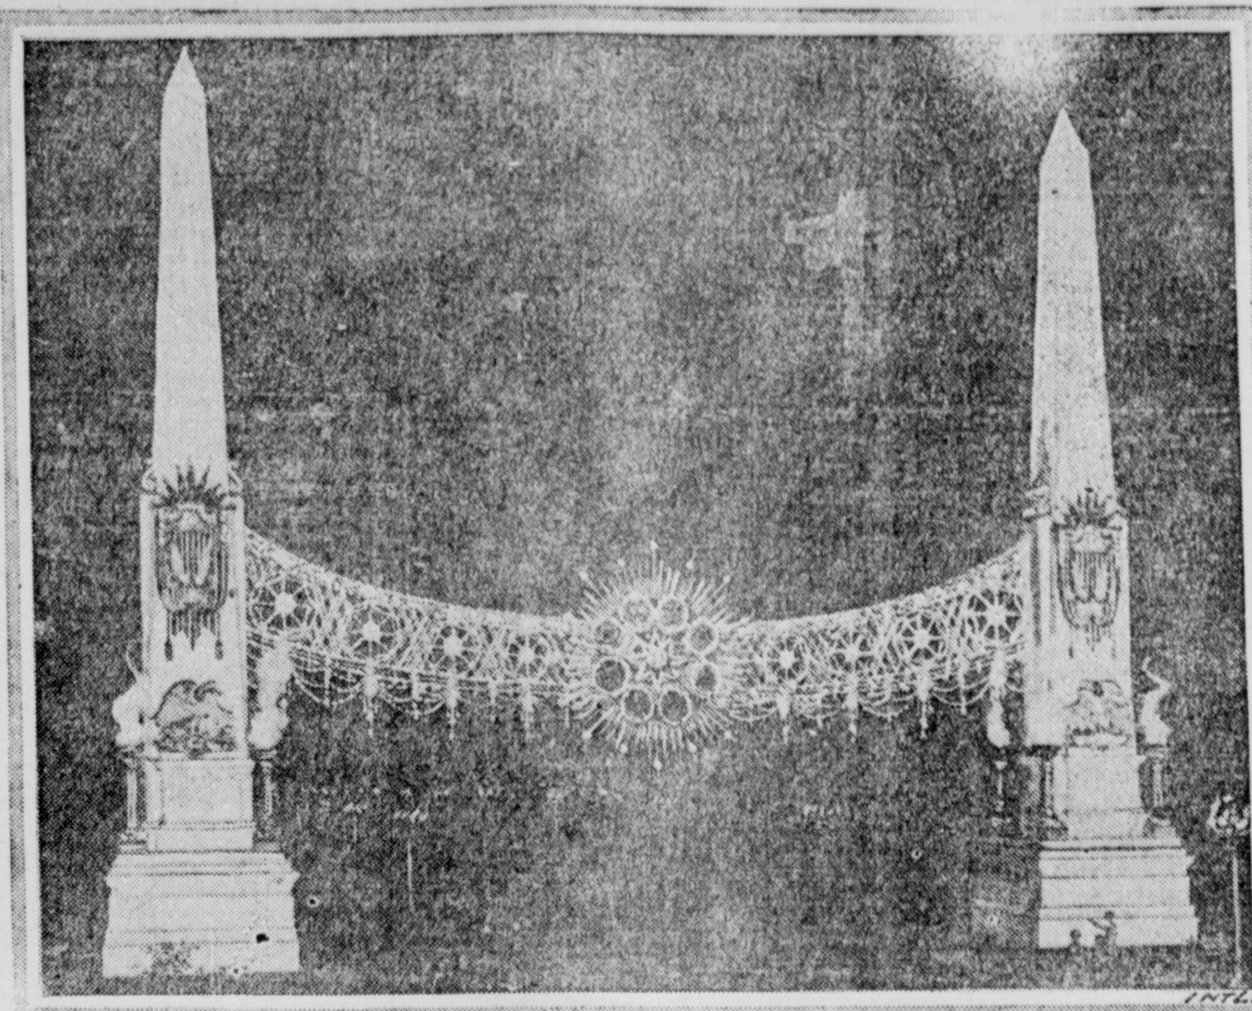

Xenia Citizens are requested to display the American Flag, Friday, Armistice Day.

This request is being made by the Chamber of Commerce, growing out of the directors meeting held Monday night.

Although no formal arrangements have been made to celebrate the legal holiday, it is the belief of the Chamber directorate that citizens should show their patriotism and recall to mind successful completion of the war, by displaying the flag at their homes and places of business.

Dr. B. R. McClellan and C. A. Weaver compose a committee appointed to see that the day is duly celebrated.

JEWELLED PORTAL TO GREAT ARMS DELEGATES

FORM MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION OF COUNTY ON MONDAY

A Greene County Ministerial Association was formed at the regular meeting of the Xenia Ministerial Association, held at the First Reformed Church, Monday.

The formation of the county association was effected, when the ministers of the county were guests of the city organization, at the meeting. The matter of a Greene County Association was presented by the Rev. E. W. Middleton, and upon motion it was decided to form such an organization.

The motion prevailed, and a nominating committee was appointed, which was requested to report at the luncheon hour, and elect the officers of the organization. The nominating committee was composed of the Rev. W. P. Harriman, the Rev. W. W. Culp, and the Rev. E. W. Moyer.

At the luncheon which followed the business meeting, at Cleveland's, the following officers of the county association were appointed: The Rev. Albert Read, Xenia, Vice President; the Rev. G. A. Scott, Xenia, Secretary; the Rev. J. P. White, Cedarville, Fairfield, Treasurer. On motion, the executive committee was appointed, a program committee.

The following ministers were enrolled as members: J. P. White, E. W. Moyer, O. W. Haulman, T. J. Gach, W. W. Culp, T. A. Ballinger, W. A. Way, W. A. Cooper, G. C. Foltz, V. E. Busler, E. E. Wally, C. N. Smith, E. R. Lewis, I. T. Andrews, M. E. Koonce, W. B. Leis, Albert Read, V. F. Brown, G. A. Scott, C. P. Proudft, D. D. Dodds, B. B. Uhl, L. C. Pim, W. H. Tilford, H. H. Huber, T. M. Scarff, A. C. Gray and E. W. Middleton.

The next meeting of the county association will be held the first Monday of December, in the First Baptist Church, of this city.

Other matters were brought before the attention of the Ministerial body at the meeting, the work of the Red Cross, and Social Service League being presented by the executives of both organizations. Miss Bertha Trebein presented the cause of the Social Service League, followed by an address by the executive secretary, Mrs. Carrie I. Robertson. Miss Louisa B. Shaffer, the executive secretary of the Red Cross, presented the matter of the coming Roll Call Drive, beginning Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, and asked that the members of the Association give several minutes next Sunday morning, asking the co-operation of the several congregations in assisting to their utmost ability in the drive.

It was decided that a committee of five, representing the Ministerial Association of Greene County, be appointed to co-operate with the Greene County Sabbath School Association, on the line proposed by the Adult Department of the S. S. Association. The following committee was appointed, the Rev. J. P. White, Cedarville; the Rev. E. R. Lewis, Yellow Springs; the Rev. G. C. Foltz, Bowlersville; the Rev. T. A. Ballinger, New Burlington, and the Rev. W. W. Culp, of Spring Valley.

It was decided at the meeting to change the hour of the Armistice Day prayer meeting to be held on Friday evening, to 7:30, instead of 7:00, as announced.

The Rev. Lewis Pim, of the Friends Church, read an interesting paper upon the subject, "The Deification of Man." After the discussion of the paper, the Rev. J. P. White of Cedarville, presented the matter of the Four Square Bible Class as a report from the recent Adult Bible Class Conference of the Adult Division of the Greene County Sunday School Association.

PARTY MANAGERS KEEP CLOSE WATCH

Washington, Nov. 8.—Almost unnoticed "except for party managers," "off year" elections are being held today in many parts of the United States. Few contests of any importance are on the election slate, but party managers are maintaining a close watch to "observe which way the wind blows."

Only one state election of any consequence was on the slate for today in Virginia, where E. C. Trinkle, Democrat, and Col. Henry Anderson, Republican, are running for governor and where other state officials are to be elected.

HAYS IS SILENT

Washington, Nov. 8.—Losses incurred on the mail robbery on the Illinois Central at Paxton, Ill., will be small, it was announced at the post office department today.

Postmaster General Hays was aroused at this latest attack on the mails.

"I'm not going to say anything about it now," Hays said. "But I am going to have something to say about it later and it will be plenty."

WOMEN JAM COURT AS LANDRU TRIAL STARTS TUESDAY

Modern Bluebeard Has Received Scores of Marriage Proposals.

Versailles, Nov. 8.—Jaunty and alert, Henri Desire Landru, modern bluebeard who is on trial charged with the murder of ten women and a boy, faced direct examination by presiding Judge Gilbert today.

The prospect of a battle of wits between Landru and the court and the possibility of salacious admissions brought to the court even a larger crowd than attended on the opening day. Practically all were women. Fashionably dressed women came from Paris by motor car. Landru was unperturbed. He smiled at the profligate women in the spectators' gallery and made a little bow as he sat down beside his counsel.

"I never harmed a woman in my life," declared the prisoner. "I've never even struck a woman."

"But where are these women who have disappeared?" he was asked.

"I am pledged to secrecy," replied Landru. "Honor forbids me to speak."

Landru had taken special pains with his toilet to make the best possible impression on the large number of women spectators.

Although he is charged with having killed ten women and swindled nearly 300 altogether, it was revealed that he had received scores of marriage proposals since his arrest.

HANGING TO OCCUR DURING AFTERNOON

Chicago, Nov. 8.—An afternoon hanging will take place tomorrow for the first time in the history of Cook county.

Frank Ligregni, convicted of the murder of his school teacher wife, Genevieve, in a farm house near Bartlett, Ill., will drop from the scaffold at 4:30 p. m.

The time was changed from dawn to afternoon because, as Sheriff Peters explained:

"I want every gunman and potential murderer in the county jail to be awake to realize that the death penalty is being exacted."

EVANGELIST FAILS TO PREACH, MONDAY

The Rev. S. Douglas McDuffie, colored evangelist, did not preach Monday night.

The Rink is now occupied for the entire week by John Roan Post of the American Legion, which is staging a large indoor carnival there, and the Opera house is also engaged by the Williams theatrical troupe for the week.

That left the evangelist, out on bond awaiting sentence or a new trial on a serious charge on which he was found guilty last week, without a shelter in which to propound his modernized and dramatic theological theories. No evidence is given that he will attempt open-air meetings.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT MASONIC MEET

Officers were elected at the regular meeting of Wright Council R. and S. M. held Monday night at the Masonic Hall. The following were elected, Leon Reed, of Yellow Springs, T. I. M.; Charles R. Breisl, D. I. M.; W. C. Downs, T. C. W.; Dr. Eber Reynolds, treasurer; J. H. Whitmer, recorder; Carl Merrick, captain of the guard; Roy Firestone, conductor of council; J. H. Warner, steward and J. H. Mathews, sentinel.

A banquet was served the members at the close of the business session. About twenty-five members of the council were present at the meeting.

WATER SHUT OFF

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 8.—A water famine caused by the government dredge boat Cincinnati is being experienced by a large section of Wheeling today. The Cincinnati, dredging out the river channel, broke the 12 inch water main between the city proper and the island and as a result that section with some eleven thousand inhabitants is dependent upon a small main across a bridge until the river main can be relaid.

AMERICAN CHIEF OF STAFF HAS WARM PRAISE FOR ITALIAN ENGINEERS.

The battlefields on which Italy fought, are the most interesting in the world, says General Peyton C. March, chief-of-staff of the American Army, who has just returned from a two weeks' trip of inspection on the Italian front.

The general was impressed by the reconstruction work accomplished in devastated regions of Northern Italy which he declared to be far in excess of the work done in the war zones of other countries. General March, during the last year, has made a careful survey of the battlefields of the World War. He has already visited those of France, Belgium, Eastern Germany and Central Europe.

"I have seen the most important battlefields throughout the world, not only of Europe but of the Far East, and must say that none of them compare to those of Italy. In America we have a very limited idea of Italy's part in the war—Caporetto, being the chief event, we remember about it. To appreciate the immense effort Italy made and the tremendous obstacles which confronted her in the Alps, one need only visit the scenes of the fighting.

"I have never seen anything to equal the engineering feats performed by the Italian Army, some of which are most ingenious and constitute important contributions to the science of war. The problem of sending supplies to troops in regions where it was necessary to blast through solid rock to bury the dead was naturally most difficult, and the methods by which the Italians solved this were very remarkable.

"The excellent motortruck roads they built through the mountains while under fire are in themselves no small tribute to Italian ability. I take off my hat to the Italian engineers—they are undoubtedly among the best in the world."

TWO ENGLISH NATIONS STANDING LIKE HERCULES SUPPORTING THE OTHERS.

The observance of Armistice Day this year finds the nations engaged in the recent World War facing another crisis. The spirit of the age is asking, What will the nations do with the problem of the limitation of armaments? The question is driving itself in upon the minds of the world's statesmen because so many of the nations are walking beneath a burden threatening to crush them. Military armaments and their support are becoming so costly that no one of them, regardless how rich, can afford to continue the expenditure. Especially is this true since it has been discovered that nearly all of the nations of Europe are practically bankrupt.

If it were not for the arms of support that are now being given them, after they have used the arms of destruction, they would be in ruin. Recently Viscount Bryce said: "Nearly all the peoples of Europe are practically bankrupt. The currency has gone down to nothing. How is it possible under the conditions which prevail in continental Europe, and especially through central and eastern Europe, for business to revive?"

We have been assured that without the support of the financial collateral of Great Britain and America, Europe would today be overwhelmed in the debris of the breakdown, both economic and financial, from which the nations could not recover themselves for at least a hundred years.

Think of the two nations—the English-speaking nations standing like Hercules, with their great arms under the support of the other nations that were in the war, and you have a picture of something not only pathetic, but that would indicate a crisis demanding the most careful procedure conceivable on the part of the world's leadership.

DID THE WAR HELP TOWARDS CIVILIZATION?

If it were left to the people of the nations, the fathers and mothers, the brothers and sisters, the wives and daughters, wars would cease. As an actual fact, there is no more sense nor need for the nations to fight and use up all the incomes of the people in war, than there would be in every family in a city waging war upon all the neighboring families and keeping up the fight until all lives and property had disappeared. If left to the judgment and common-sense of common people, a way for the settlement of international difficulties would be as practicable and easy as the maintenance of peace among the families of a city.

General Pershing says: "It is time for an awakening among enlightened peoples to the end that the leading powers may reach some rational agreement which would not only relieve the world of this terrible financial load, but which in itself would be a long step toward the prevention of war. If other nations have the same attitude, it seems unreasonable not to believe that all will be willing to prove it by consenting to limit armaments. Unless some such move be made, we may well ask ourselves whether civilization does not really reach a point where it begins to destroy itself and whether we are thus doomed to go headlong down through destructive war and darkness to barbarism."

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

One of the largest excursions that has left Xenia recently was that for the teachers of the public schools to attend the Central Ohio Teachers Association being held in Cincinnati, this week, which left the city this morning.

A car load of marble for the new Court House arrived this morning.

A horse belonging to Elmer Woolery, of Paintersville, became frightened at a mail box, and ran off throwing Mr. Woolery from the buggy. He escaped but the buggy was torn to pieces.

A new brass band is being organized in the East End, with some of the best local talent obtainable. An effort is being made to make it a good strong organization, one that will stick together and bring honor to itself.

Xenia is to have quite an addition to her list of business firms, by a new general store which is to operate in one of the Mullen rooms on Green Street, by Mr. D. D. Gayman, of Sabina. The store will be on the department order.

A part of the new scenery for the Opera House arrived today. All of it will soon be in place and promises to be very handsome.

THE FAIRWAY AND GREEN

At this season of the year the golfer encounters many windy days and he is usually quite disturbed as to the effect the wind will have on his ball.

The most interesting article I ever read on the flight of golf balls is Professor Tait's scientific analysis. Some points he established are quite revolutionary and will correct many mistaken impressions which now prevail widely.

For example Professor Tait says that there is an erroneous idea among golfers that the ball rises considerably higher when driven against the wind and considerably lower when driven with the wind then would be the case if there were no wind. The professor explains that "the difference in height, whether it is more or less depends on the circumstances of projection, notably on the spin" is in general very small, the often apparent rise or fall being due mainly to perspective as the vortex of the path of the ball is brought nearer to or farther away from the player.

Another one of Professor Tait's statements which will be a surprise to most golfers, I alluded to it in my previous article, reads: "It is well to call attention to a singularly erroneous notion very prevalent among golfers, namely, that a following wind carries the ball onward! Such an idea is, of course, altogether absurd except in the extremely improbable case of the wind moving faster than the initial flight of the ball. The true way of regarding matters of this kind is to remember that there is always resistance while there is a relative motion of the ball in the air, and that it is less as the relative motion is small."

State of Ohio, Insurance Department, Columbus, March 1, 1921.—As Superintendent of Insurance of the State of Ohio, I hereby certify that the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, located at New York City, in the State of New York, has complied in all respects with the laws of this State, applicable to it, and is authorized during the current year to transact in this State on the capital stock plan its appropriate business of insurance as specified in its license. Its condition and business, on the thirty-first day of December 1920, the year last preceding the date hereof, is shown by its statement, required by law, to be as follows: Aggregate amount of available assets, $889,912,081.17; aggregate amount of liabilities (except capital), including re-insurance, reserve, $497,465,234.54; net assets, $392,446,846.63; surplus, $33,447,846.63; amount of income for the year in cash, $282,219,778.99; amount of expenditures for the year in cash, $153,665,123.60.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused my official seal to be affixed, the day and year first above written.

(Signed) B. W. Gearheart, Supt. of Ins.

ler, so that it is reduced throughout the path of the flight when there is a following wind."

James Braid makes convincing comments on Professor Tait's article and says: "Another very important point to bear in mind—is that if, say, the ball is traveling at the rate of 100 feet a second, and wind resistance may be 10 miles an hour, but if the ball were going at the rate of 200 feet a second the resistance would be equal to say 40 miles an hour.

"Then it is clear that the resistance is immensely greater at the beginning of the flight of the ball than it is towards the end, and it is all the more necessary that the ball be kept as low as possible at the beginning when it is going fast and making such enormous resistance for itself than toward the finish when speed is almost spent.

"By keeping it low less wind, which is so expensive to flight is encountered and so we see another advantage of driving in the perfect way or nearly, with no initial elevation."

BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

tion, because if the ball skims the turf while it is going at its greatest speed it is getting off with comparatively little wind resistance.

"Sooner or later when it covers a large part of its journey it has to rise but then it is going very much more slowly and therefore when it gets the full force of the wind upon it that force is considerably discounted. The definite fact to remember is—that a ball that is traveling twice as fast as another has not twice as much resistance offered to it but four times as much."

The golf facts outlined by Mr. Braid and Professor Tait in the above quotations are obviously of great advantage to any golfer and are simple enough for even a beginner to understand even though he may not be able to execute them in play as he would like.

There are some other points brought out by Mr. Braid which I may touch on in later articles.

EASY JOBS.

I see the farmer milk a cow, and I remark, "Beshrew it, there is no trick to that, I guess, and anyone could do it." But when I try to do the stunt my work's so slow and halting, the cow kicks in my Mars-like front and leaves me somersaulting. I see the blacksmith shoe a mule, and you may hear me twitter, "Give me the proper sort of tool, and I could shoe that critter." And when the blacksmith says, "Just try!" I take his nails and hammer, then through the smithy roof I fly and raise a doleful clamor. I see the artist paint a fence, and mutter to my neighbor, "Oh, any man of common sense could do that sort of labor." But when I get myself a brush, and paint my cottage portal, the neighbors to my gateway rush, and whoop and jeer and chortle. "Your artwork gives my nerves the jumps," observes the village weaver; "it looks like jaundice and the mumps mixed with scarlet fever." I watch the poet work his harp, his timbre and his whistle, and I observe, "The poet sharp requires less brains than gysle; give me a lyre and I will show that making song is easy," but when some odes I deftly throw, the critics say they're cheesey. I look down from my empty loft upon the toilers under, and all the other jobs look soft, and mine seems hard as thunder.

Painting a gloomy picture of conditions in Europe, as they exist today, H. S. Shelton, president of the Johnston-Shelton Company, of Dayton, and of the Dayton Retail Merchants Association, in his lecture, "The World Problem," delivered before about 200 members and guests of the Miami Valley Traffic Club, Monday evening in the K. of P. Hall in Xenia, outlined the enormous issues with which the world is face to face.

Mr. Shelton has recently returned from Great Britain and the Continent where he was called to study conditions there. His lecture was illustrated by lantern slides of pictures he took while abroad. The pictures also showed the battlefields.

"Europe is bankrupt," declared Mr. Shelton. "She is unable to pay the eleven-billion dollar debt owed the United States, and I doubt if it will ever be discharged. Much of the continent is without money of any kind and in others, such as Germany, the exchange rate has fallen to almost nothing."

Touching on the Disarmament Conference which meets in Washington, Friday, Mr. Shelton called attention to the fact that the name is a misnomer, being rather a conference to discuss the limitation of armaments.

"It is not practical nor possible for nations to disarm," said the speaker. "Of the four greatest nations of the earth today, in order of their importance, the United States is the only one that can even approach the subject. Great Britain cannot disarm, on account of the vastness of her possessions, and the revolt and secession that is seething barely under the surface. Japan, I do not think, will disarm, and of course Germany is already without armament."

Continuing, Mr. Shelton said: "Great Britain, today, is faced with a situation that at any time may throw the empire into chaos with the result that this nation, which has for hundreds of years been at the head of the civilized world will disintegrate. If Lloyd George should resign his position as premier there is no one in the empire that is capable of welding all the elements and factions together."

"Germany, today, is in better shape than any country in Europe. The reason for this is that she is producing, and through cheap labor is able to undersell Great Britain and other nations which is one reason for the vast unemployment in these countries."

"France is a dying nation and is of the opinion that the United States is her only friend. The hatred between Germany and France still exists and the desire to whip the French still sways the minds of the Germans."

"The Russian situation is such that it may overturn the whole structure of Europe and it is possible that in the future an alliance of Germany, Russia and Japan, may threaten the position of the English speaking nations. The only thing to combat such an alliance is a union of the United States and Great Britain."

This was the first meeting of the Traffic Club in Xenia. The club, re-organized about a year ago, is composed of traffic managers and railroad officials of 15 cities in the Miami Valley.

William Boyer, district representative of the Pennsylvania railroad and president of the club, presided at the meeting, which followed a banquet served by Jacob Kany.

John D. Steele, jr., vice president of the Hoover & Allison Company responded in a short address, welcoming the club to Xenia. A short song service illustrated by slides preceded the main program of the evening.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out Kidneys—Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Viceroy of India

The Earl of Reading, the Viceroy and Governor-General of India here seen in his robes as Grand Master of the Order of the Star of India, spent his sixty-first birthday amid the anxieties occasioned by the troubled state of the great country over which he rules. The cause of this trouble, manifested in an acute form by the rising of the Moplahs of Malabar, is, in the words of His Excellency, "the dangerous and disruptive propaganda that is being carried on by the adherents of a movement which seeks to paralyze authority, and can only lead to disorder and bloodshed."

SOLDIER SERVES BUDDY'S SENTENCE

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 8.—Harry W. Hailey, serving a sentence of six months in the U. S. army disciplinary barracks for the man who saved his life on a battlefield of France, was released yesterday by order of the war department.

Hailey's life was saved on the front by Thomas W. Jones, a comrade. When Jones was tried for desertion and sentenced to six months' imprisonment, Hailey surreptitiously substituted himself for Jones and began serving the term.

Hailey told officials at the prison he took the place of the man to whom he owed his life in payment of a "soldier debt." An investigation by the war department substantiated his statements.

Jones, according to Hailey, is now in Canada, where he had married.

Today's Talk by George Matthew Adams

LIFE TROTS

History is very instructive. It is like a mirror—which doesn't lie! But the greatest truth that it teaches is that life trots—not walks, but TROTS.

We cannot stand still. There must be use and movement, even to the inanimate creation, or else it rusts or rots away and its usefulness is gone.

The writer of this talk is often flattered. People tell him that he looks younger than he is. But he looks in the mirror and knows that nothing could be truer than that he is 43 years old and that he does NOT look as he did when he was 21. For the hair is not so thick as then—nor as black; there are little parties of hide-and-seek strands of gray that keep saying every morning afresh that Autumn is on the way and that Winter follows Autumn.

Life trots. When night is over and morning

MRS. BERGDOLL SENDS BILL TO GOVERNMENT

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Emma S. Bergdoll, who has been ordered to vacate "Bergdoll Castle," which the government maintains is owned by her son, Grover C. Bergdoll, draft evader and fugitive from justice, has sent the government a bill at the rate of $10,000 a year for her services as caretaker of the dwelling.

Colonel Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, said that when Mrs. Bergdoll had been directed to vacate on Oct. 31, it was because she had maintained it was an effort for her to administer the property. She admitted the property belonged to Grover, Colonel Miller said, and made a charge of $10,000 a year for administering it.

"My agents in Philadelphia informed me that Mrs. Bergdoll did not vacate on Oct. 31 and that she claimed her reason for not doing so was on account of a certain illness she had contracted," he said.

"My information is that she was seen Sunday in an automobile and now we are informed that she is not ill at all but that her aged mother, who was doing the family laundry in the cellar of the Wynnefield property last week, is the one who is ill."

The statement asserts that Mrs.

Bergdoll's conduct is a "palpable effort to evade the law," inasmuch as she has other properties fully furnished, and it would mean no hardship for her to move into one of her other houses.

If it were left to the people of the nations, the fathers and mothers, the brothers and sisters, the wives and daughters, wars would cease. As an actual fact, there is no more sense nor need for the nations to fight and use up all the incomes of the people in war, than there would be in every family in a city waging war upon all the neighboring families and keeping up the fight until all lives and property had disappeared. If left to the judgment and common-sense of common people, a way for the settlement of international difficulties would be as practicable and easy as the maintenance of peace among the families of a city.

General Pershing says: "It is time for an awakening among enlightened peoples to the end that the leading powers may reach some rational agreement which would not only relieve the world of this terrible financial load, but which in itself would be a long step toward the prevention of war. If other nations have the same attitude, it seems unreasonable not to believe that all will be willing to prove it by consenting to limit armaments. Unless some such move be made, we may well ask ourselves whether civilization does not really reach a point where it begins to destroy itself and whether we are thus doomed to go headlong down through destructive war and darkness to barbarism."

NOT TO BE EATEN UNTIL 1923.

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

One of the largest excursions that has left Xenia recently was that for the teachers of the public schools to attend the Central Ohio Teachers Association being held in Cincinnati, this week, which left the city this morning. A car load of marble for the new Court House arrived this morning.

A horse belonging to Elmer Woolery, of Paintersville, became frightened at a mail box, and ran off throwing Mr. Woolery from the buggy. He escaped but the buggy was torn to pieces.

A new brass band is being organized in the East End, with some of the best local talent obtainable. An effort is being made to make it a good strong organization, one that will stick together and bring honor to itself.

Xenia is to have quite an addition to her list of business firms, by a new general store which is to operate in one of the Mulien rooms on Green Street, by Mr. D. D. Gayman, of Sabina. The store will be on the department order.

A part of the new scenery for the Opera House arrived today. All of it will soon be in place and promises to be very handsome.

THE FAIRWAY AND GREEN

At this season of the year the golfer encounters many windy days and he is usually quite disturbed as to the effect the wind will have on his ball.

The most interesting article I ever read on the flight of golf balls is professor Tait's scientific analysis. Some points he established are quite revolutionary and will correct many mistaken impressions which now prevail widely.

For example Professor Tait says that there is an erroneous idea among golfers that the ball rises considerably higher when driven against the wind and considerably lower when driven with the wind than would be the case if there were no wind. The professor explains that "the difference in height whether it is more or less depends on the circumstances of projection, notably on the spin" is in general very small, the often apparent rise or fall being due mainly to perspective as the vortex of the path of the ball is brought nearer to or farther away from the player.

Another one of Professor Tait's statements which will be a surprise to most golfers, I alluded to in my previous article. It is well to call attention to a singularly erroneous notion very prevalent among golfers, namely, that a following wind carries the ball onward! Such an idea is, of course, altogether absurd except in the extremely improbable case of the wind moving faster than the initial flight of the ball. The true way of regarding matters of this kind is to remember that there is always resistance while there is a relative motion of the ball in the air, and that it is less as the relative motion is small.

State of Ohio, Insurance Department, Columbus, March 1, 1921.—As Superintendent of Insurance of the State of Ohio, I hereby certify that the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, located at New York City, in the State of New York, having complied in all respects with the laws of this State, applicable to it, and is authorized during the current year to transact in this State on the capital stock plan its appropriate business of insurance as specified in its license. Its condition and business, on the thirty-first day of December of the year next preceding the date hereof, is shown by its statement, required by law, to be as follows: Aggregate amount of available assets, $950,913,981.17; aggregate amount of liabilities (except capital), including re-insurance, reserve, $247,462,234.24; net assets, $33,447,852.93; surplus, $33,447,852.93; amount of income for the year in cash, $283,519,778.93; amount of expenditures for the year in cash, $153,663,123.60.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused my official seal to be affixed, the day and year first above written.

(Signed) E. W. Gearheart, Supt. of Ins.

ler, so that it is reduced throughout the path of the flight when there is a following wind."

James Braid makes convincing comments on Professor Tait's article and says: "Another very important point to bear in mind—is that if, say, the ball is traveling at the rate of 100 feet a second and wind resistance may be 10 miles an hour, but if the ball were going at the rate of 200 feet a second the resistance would be equal to say 40 miles an hour.

"Then it is clear that the resistance is immensely greater at the beginning of the flight of the ball than it is towards the end, and it is all the more necessary that the ball be kept as low as possible at the beginning when it is going fast and making such enormous resistance for itself than toward the finish when speed is almost spent.

"By keeping it low less wind, which is so expensive to flight is encountered and so we see another advantage of driving in the perfect way or nearly, with no initial elevation, because if the ball skims the turf while it is going at its greatest speed it is getting off with comparatively little wind resistance.

"Sooner or later when it covers a large part of its journey it has to rise but then it is going very much more slowly and therefore when it gets the full force of the wind upon it that force is considerably discounted. The definite fact to remember is—that a ball that is traveling twice as fast as another has not twice as much resistance offered to it but four times as much."

The golf facts outlined by Mr. Braid and Professor Tait in the above quotations are obviously of great advantage to any golfer and are simple enough for even a beginner to understand even though he may not be able to execute them in play as he would like.

There are some other points brought out by Mr. Braid which I may touch on in later articles.

EASY JOBS.

I see the farmer milk a cow, and I remark, "Beshrew it, there is no trick to that, I swow, and anyone could do it." But when I try to do the stunt my work's so slow and halting, the cow kicks in my Mars-like front and leaves me somersaulting. I see the blacksmith shoe a mule, and you may hear me twitter, "Give me the proper sort of tool, and I could shoe that critter." And when the blacksmith says, "Just try!" I take his nails and hammer, then through the smithy roof I fly and raise a doleful clamor. I see the artist paint a fence, and mutter to my neighbor, "Oh, any man of common sense could do that sort of labor." But when I get myself a brush, and paint my cottage portal, the neighbors to my gateway rush, and whoop and jeer and chortle. "Your artwork gives my nerves the jumps," observes the village weaver; "it looks like jaundice and the mumps mixed with scarlet fever." I watch the poet work his harp, his timbrel and his whistle, and I observe, "The poet sharp requires less brains than gyslie; give me a lyre and I will show that making song is easy;" but when some odes I deftly throw, the critics say they're cheesey. I look down from my empty loft upon the toilers under, and all the other jobs look soft, and mine seems hard as thunder.

Painting a gloomy picture of conditions in Europe, as they exist today, H. S. Shelton, president of the Johnston-Shelton Company, of Dayton, and of the Dayton Retail Merchants Association, in his lecture, "The World Problem," delivered before about 200 members and guests of the Miami Valley Traffic Club, Monday evening in the K. of P. Hall in Xenia, outlined the enormous issues with which the world is face to face.

Mr. Shelton has recently returned from Great Britain and the Continent where he was called to study conditions there. His lecture was illustrated by lantern slides of pictures he took while abroad. The pictures also showed the battlefields.

"Europe is bankrupt," declared Mr. Shelton. "She is unable to pay the eleven-billion dollar debt owed the United States, and I doubt if it will ever be discharged. Much of the continent is without money of any kind and in others, such as Germany, the exchange rate has fallen to almost nothing."

Touching on the Disarmament Conference which meets in Washington, Friday, Mr. Shelton called attention to the fact that the name is a misnomer, being rather a conference to discuss the limitation of armaments.

"It is not practical nor possible for nations to disarm," said the speaker. "Of the four greatest nations of the earth today, in order of their importance, the United States is the only one that can even approach the subject. Great Britain cannot disarm, on account of the vastness of her possessions, and the revolt and secession that is seething barely under the surface. Japan, I do not think, will disarm, and of course Germany is already without armament."

Continuing, Mr. Shelton said: "Great Britain, today, is faced with a situation that at any time may throw the empire into chaos with the result that this nation, which has for hundreds of years been at the head of the civilized world will disintegrate. If Lloyd George should resign his position as premier there is no one in the empire that is capable of welding all the elements and factions together.

"Germany, today, is in better shape than any country in Europe. The reason for this is that she is producing, and through cheap labor is able to undersell Great Britain and other nations which is one reason for the vast unemployment in these countries.

"France is a dying nation and is of the opinion that the United States is her only friend. The hatred between Germany and France still exists and the desire to whip the French still sways the minds of the Germans.

"The Russian situation is such that it may overturn the whole structure of Europe and it is possible that in the future an alliance of Germany, Russia and Japan, may threaten the position of the English speaking nations. The only thing to combat such an alliance is a union of the United States and Great Britain."

This was the first meeting of the Traffic Club in Xenia. The club, reorganized about a year ago, is composed of traffic managers and railroad officials of 15 cities in the Miami Valley.

Willard Boyer, district representative of the Pennsylvania railroad and president of the club, presided at the meeting, which followed a banquet served by Jacob Kany, John D. Steele, Jr., vice president of the Hooven & Allison Company responded in a short address, welcoming the club to Xenia. A short song service illustrated by slides preceded the main program of the evening.

IF BACKACHEY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out kidneys—Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Viceroy of India

The Earl of Reading, the Viceroy and Governor-General of India here seen in his robes as Grand Master of the Order of the Star to India, spent his sixty-first birthday amid the anxieties occasioned by the troubled state of the great country over which he rules. The cause of this trouble, manifested in an acute form by the rising of the Moplahs of Malabar, is, in the words of His Excellency, "the dangerous and disruptive propaganda that is being carried on by the adherents of a movement which seeks to paralyze authority, and can only lead to disorder and bloodshed."

SOLDIER SERVES BUDDY'S SENTENCE

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 8.—Harry W. Hailey, serving a sentence of six months in the U. S. army disciplinary barracks for the man who saved his life on a battlefield of France, was released yesterday by order of the war department.

Hailey's life was saved on the front by Thomas W. Jones, a comrade. When Jones was tried for desertion and sentenced to six months' imprisonment, Hailey surreptitiously substituted himself for Jones and began serving the term.

Hailey told officials at the prison he took the place of the man to whom he owed his life in payment of a "soldier's debt." An investigation by the war department substantiated his statements.

Jones, according to Hailey, is now in Canada, where he had married.

LIFE TROTS

History is very instructive. It is like a mirror—which doesn't lie! But the greatest truth that it teaches is that life trots—not walks, but TROTS.

We cannot stand still. There must be use and movement, even to the inanimate creation, or else it rusts or rots away and its usefulness is gone.

The writer of this talk is often flattered. People tell him that he looks younger than he is. But he looks in the mirror and knows that nothing could be truer than that he is 43 years old and that he does NOT look as he did when he was 21. For the hair is not so thick as then—nor as black; there are little parties of hide-and-seek strands of gray that keep saying every morning afresh that Autumn is on the way and that Winter follows Autumn.

Life trots.

MRS. BERGDOLL SENDS BILL TO GOVERNMENT

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Emma S. Bergdoll, who has been ordered to vacate "Bergdoll Castle," which the government maintains is owned by her son, Grover C. Bergdoll, draft evader and fugitive from justice, has sent the government a bill at the rate of $10,000 a year for her services as caretaker of the dwelling.

Colonel Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, said that when Mrs. Bergdoll had been directed to vacate on Oct. 31, it was because she had maintained it was an effort for her to administer the property. She admitted the property belonged to Grover, Colonel Miller said, and made a charge of $10,000 a year for administering it.

"My agents in Philadelphia informed me that Mrs. Bergdoll did not vacate on Oct. 31 and that she claimed her reason for not doing so was on account of a certain illness she had contracted," he said.

"My information is that she was seen Sunday in an automobile and now we are informed that she is not ill at all but that her aged mother, who was doing the family laundry in the cellar of the Wynnefield property last week, is the one who is ill."

The statement asserts that Mrs.

Bergdoll's conduct is a "palpable effort to evade the law," inasmuch as she has other properties fully furnished, and it would mean no hardship for her to move into one of her other houses.

LOCAL METHODIST CHURCH IS AMONG NATION'S LARGEST

The First Methodist Episcopal Church, of this city, is one of 232 churches of that denomination in the country which has a membership of over 1,000, figures given out by the Rev. Oliver S. Baketal, D. D., editor of the Methodist Year Book, show.

The local church is one of 37 churches in Ohio which has a total membership of over a thousand mark, and the figures given for the local congregation are 1,250 in 1915, according to ecclesiastical statistics, there were 163 churches with a membership of over 1,000 while now there are 232 such congregations in the country.

Philadelphia leads the list with 11, Columbus is next with nine, Detroit has eight and Baltimore five. Of the six largest churches all over 2,500 in membership, there are three in the colored conference. The largest of all is East Calvary, Philadelphia, colored, with a membership of 4,320. The second largest is North Woodward, Detroit, with a membership of 3,117, and next in line are the Union Memorial, St. Louis, 2,656; Lakewood, Cleveland, 2,530; First Church, Los Angeles, 2,500; South Park Ave., Chicago, 2,500; First Church, Decatur, Illinois, 2,367; South Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., 2,331; Bushwick Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Thirty-seven of these churches are in Ohio, 25 in Pennsylvania, 17 in New York, 16 in Illinois, 15 in Indiana, 14 in Iowa and so on. The Ohio list of churches with memberships over the 1,000 mark, are:

Lakewood Church, Cleveland, membership 2,530; Epworth Church, Marion, membership 2,136; First Church, Cleveland, membership 1,956; Trinity Church, Youngstown, membership 1,954; First Church, Canton, membership 1,935; First Church, Lancaster, membership 1,836; Central Church, Springfield, membership 1,759; First Church, Alliance, membership 1,714; Trinity Church, Lima, membership 1,707; Trinity Church, Portsmouth, membership 1,682; First Church, Cambridge, membership 1,625; Grace Church, Lima, membership 1,527; Indianola Church, Columbus, membership 1,532; First Church, Newark, membership 1,508; First Church, Van Wert, membership 1,505; First Church, Marion, membership 1,504; First Church, Akron, membership 1,451; Glenwood Church, Columbus, membership 1,403; Thurman Avenue Church, Columbus, membership 1,344; Middletown, membership 1,320; First Church, Warren, membership 1,316; Grace Church, Akron, membership 1,300; Cory Church, Cleveland, membership 1,292; Grace Church, Dayton, membership 1,260; First Church, Springfield, membership 1,256; North Church, Columbus, membership 1,250; Elvira, membership 1,250; FIRST CHURCH, XENIA, MEMBERSHIP 1,250; Simpson Church, Canton, membership 1,204; Belmont Church, Youngstown, membership 1,200; First Church, Findlay, membership 1,187; Washington Court House, membership 1,182; William Street Church, Delaware, membership 1,155; Mount Vernon Church, Columbus, membership 1,150; Windermere, Cleveland, membership 1,148.

THIRTY ARE DROWNED

London, Nov. 7.—Thirty persons were drowned Saturday when the Finnish steamer Kustavi, formerly the Necken, capsized during a storm, according to a dispatch to Lloyd's from Hangö.

How To Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lettuce and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalize wornout, exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N.I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablet form—never in liquid form.

Most Elusive Man In World Hiding in New York.

Two pictures of Ignatius Timothy T. Lincoln

Ignatius Timothy T. Lincoln, international spy, characterized by Scotland Yard as the "most elusive man in the world," is in hiding in New York. With half a dozen Governments more or less interested in his whereabouts, this picturesque person got into this country within the past few days, frankly in violation of the immigration laws, in disguise and under an assumed name. A self-confessed spy for Germany during the war, German Censor following the war, this world character has in his varied career been a Presbyterian minister (after being a converted Jew), an Anglican minister, a curate in England, a member of the House of Commons in England and many other things. In his varied activities he has dealt with Ludendorff, Kaiser Wilhelm, Lloyd George and other famous figures of Europe. In a statement to his discoverer in New York, he said that if the United States objected to his staying here he would make arrangements to leave.

COURT NEWS

SEEKS CONSTRUCTION OF WILL
J. A. Finney, as administrator with the will annexed, of the estate of Louise Greet has brought suit in Common Pleas Court for construction of the will naming as defendants, J. H. Springer, Paul Amiel Springer, Louise Wease, Frances Leopold, Mary Came, Mrs. Frederick A. Day, The First United Presbyterian Church of Xenia, Ohio J. C. Marshall, Judge of Probate Court of Greene County, Ohio and P. W. Metz, Judge of the District Court of the Fifth Judicial District of the State of Wyoming. The plaintiff states that Louise Greet died December 27, 1920, and her will, when probated contained two clauses, one giving one-fourth to the Children's Home of Xenia, for the benefit of orphan children, or if there was no such home to be used for the benefit of orphaned children in any way, that the Judge of Probate Court, of Greene County should see fit; the other gave one-fourth to the orphan children in Wyoming in the name of Judge of the Fifth Judicial District to be used by him to benefit orphaned children, the best way he knew.

The plaintiff states that there is no Home in Xenia, and that he is unable to determine to whom the money should be paid, and asks the court to determine if the provisions of the will are void because of their uncertainty. The personal property, the petition states, was appraised at $10,000 that the debts and costs of administration will amount to approximately $2,500 and that the legacies mentioned amount to $2,000 leaving approximately $4,000 or $5,000 for distribution. The plaintiff asks the court to construe the provisions of the will, determine if they are void and to direct the plaintiff in his administration of the trust, J. A. Finney and W. L. Miller compose counsel for the plaintiff.

WANTS JUDGMENT ON NOTE

The West Dayton Commercial and Savings Bank of 1719 West Third Street, Dayton, is plaintiff in an action filed with Clerk of Courts Elam against C. G. Paul and Sarah E. Paul for $450.60 alleged to be the balance due on a promissory note executed January 1, 1921 for $900 and bearing eight per cent interest. Orion E. Bowman of Dayton is attorney for the plaintiff.

Pimples Denote Waste Products In The Blood

So Do Blackheads, Boils and Similar Skin Disorders.

The human system is forever striving to get rid of the waste products. It is a life-work which goes on forever. When waste products get in the blood, they cause a lowered vitality. As a result, we become subject to many painful and embarrassing ailments.

When these symptoms appear, Nature is warning us. To throw off the waste products, the blood must be purified. Don't clog your blood. Just clean it out. Nature will do the rest. Pure, rich, red blood nourishes the body and fights off disease.

S. S. S., the standard blood purifier and system builder, is the ideal remedy for skin eruptions. The effect of S. S. S. is to rid the system of the waste products which are causing the trouble. For over 50 years S. S. S. has proven to be of unusual merit. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 56 page illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free.

NERVOUSNESS, HEADACHE AND STOMACH TROUBLE ENDED

Nerv-Worth Quickly Overcomes These for Adolph Shields.

"I had had Saint Vitus Dance, and it left me in an awful nervous condition," said Adolphus Shields, a well known Clarksburg, W. Va. resident. "My head ached a great deal, and my stomach was also in bad shape. I had doctored considerably with no results. Two bottles of Nerv-Worth improved my condition wonderfully, and I feel like a new man." It is a strange fact, but nervous and stomach ills are usually found together, and they are likewise the cause of much misery. Nerv-Worth's ability to act in such cases, and act quickly, makes it the ideal medicine for those who suffer from such troubles. If your first bottle does not benefit you, your druggist is authorized to refund your money. Sold by all leading druggists.

Nerv-Worth is not $1.00 per bottle. Sold and recommended by Sayre & Hemphill.

HEALTH CENTERS ANSWER NEED OF COMMUNITIES

Dr. Ervin A. Peterson, of Washington, D. C., former Xenian, is the author of a new article, upon "Health Service," in the Seeker's Bulletin, a pamphlet issued to Red Cross Speakers by the Speakers' Bureau at National Headquarters, Washington, D. C.

The pamphlet contains several reports from workers in the different departments, and Dr. Peterson's report, deals with the health department, in which he is employed.

"The great need for the co-ordination of volunteer health agencies and of the bringing of these agencies into closer contact with the local, State and National official agencies, and the great body of doctors of the country has been met in many communities by the establishment of Health Centers," is one of the statements of Dr. Peterson upon the work of the health department.

The advancement of the work is shown in the following statement of Dr. Peterson, "Red Cross Chapters, met the need for clinics in hundreds of communities, always in a way that the field of the physician is not invaded, and that the community as a whole benefits. Mostly they are located in Health Centers, but sometimes they are conducted as separate projects. During the first six months of the year, nearly 5,000 clinics have been conducted."

GRANTS AMNESTY

Riga, Nov. 8.—The soviet government has issued a decree granting amnesty to all soldiers who fought in the anti-bolshevik armies of Admiral Kolchak, Gen. Wrangel and other leaders, said a dispatch from Moscow today. The "white" soldiers living abroad are permitted to return to Russia on a war prisoner basis. The decree was issued in connection with the celebration of the fourth anniversary of the Russian revolution.

SMALL FIRES CALL OUT DEPARTMENT TUESDAY MORNING

A spark from a yard engine on the Pennsylvania railroad is believed to have caused a fire at the home of Cass Hilliard, Miami Avenue, Tuesday morning.

While the fire department was answering a call to the Hilliard home, an awning over the doorway of the Citizens' National Bank caught fire from a cigarette said to have been an awning over the doorway of the The blaze was extinguished by a bucket of water after burning a small hole in the awning.

A spark from an engine is believed to have caused a fire on Barrett street Monday. The blaze breaking out in the roof and burning a small hole before firemen got it under control. The house is occupied by a family named Miller.

FUNERAL IS HELD

Funeral services for J. B. Gordon, of this city, were held Sunday afternoon, at the Grape Grove Church of Christ, in charge of Mr. Gordon's nephew, the Rev. J. F. Gordon, of the Jamestown Church of Christ. A sextette, composed of relatives of the deceased, sang several selections.

The services were attended by a large company of relatives and friends. Several beautiful floral tributes were received by the family. The pallbearers were, Mr. Gordon's son, Dr. S. E. Gordon, his son-in-law, C. B. Smith, and four grandsons, Stanley Gordon, Gordon Carr, Harry Larick and Austin Black. Interment was made at the Grape Grove Cemetery. Relatives from Columbus, Dayton, London and other towns of the vicinity, attended the services.

CALL BY DEATH MONDAY EVENING

Jerry Lemming, 70, passed away at the home of his niece, Mrs. Rolly Shaw, at 1012 West Second street, Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, following a lingering illness. He was stricken last March with paralysis, and had been bed-fast since that time.

Mr. Lemming had made his home with Mrs. Shaw for the past year. Previous to that time, he lived alone, having resided in this city for the past 28 years, coming here from Bowersville.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Rose Fugate, of Xenia, and four brothers, Levi, of Toledo, Joshua, of Lima, Charles, of Millersville, George, of Wilmington, and one sister, Mrs. Bathsheba Bowermaster, of Xenia.

Mr. Lemming was a member of the Christian Church of Bowersville. Funeral services will be held from the Shaw home, at two o'clock, Thursday afternoon.

The De Laval puts money in the bank

MONEY in the bank is the final test of any piece of farm equipment. It is especially true of a cream separator.

Butter-fat is the most valuable product of the farm. Twice a day, every day in the year, gravity skimming or a poorly constructed separator wastes this high-priced food.

A De Laval Cream Separator stops this loss of profit. It supplies the extra money that is needed for current expenses, improvements about the farm, or for the purchase of new stock.

More than 2,500,000 De Laval are in daily use throughout the world. These De Laval owners represent the most progressive and most prosperous farmers in every country and locality.

A De Laval Cream Separator will make your farm more profitable, too, and put money in the bank for you.

You can buy a De Laval on such terms that it will actually pay for itself while you are using it. Come in and talk it over.

What This Baby's Mother Says About Father John's Medicine:

"I have a family of eight children and two sets of twins. They all had bad colds and could not sleep, they coughed all night. I started giving them Father John's Medicine and after taking it they stopped coughing and they kept on taking it until they were well. I think it is the best medicine for colds. (Signed) Mrs. D. Onellette, Broadway Road, Dracont, Mass.

As a family medicine for colds and throat troubles and as a body builder, Father John's Medicine is depended upon in thousands of homes because it is pure and wholesome. Guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs.

TO INCREASE FLESH

To put on solid, healthful, permanent firm flesh, you must give your system plenty of health giving nourishment, just as you would put good heat-producing fuel in an engine if you wanted to make steam.

By taking a little MEDIC-YEEST with each meal that you eat, you increase the nourishment of your food. Nourish wasting tissues, invigorate vital organs and restore waning nerve force.

MEDIC-YEEST TABLETS contains those rebuilding natural elements in the Vitamines which Science calls the "Soul of the Food." MEDIC-YEEST TABLETS positively will add solid flesh and increase energy when taken regularly with your meals. MEDIC-YEEST should not be used by anyone who is opposed to acquiring normal weight.

Results are absolutely guaranteed or money refunded. Remember the name, MEDIC-YEEST TABLETS. Sayre & Hemphill and all other druggists can supply you.—Adv.

XENIA HAS 3,171 POINTS OF MAIL DELIVERY IS WORD

Xenia is without street signs, 474 buildings have no numbers and 705 points of mail delivery are without mail receptacles.

This is what the survey just completed by the Xenia post office shows. It is often difficult for a stranger to locate a house because of the lack of uniformity in the address house numbering system. A jump from 200 to 600 in two blocks is not uncommon. Where a house on one street has a number of 624, the corresponding house on a parallel street has a number of 220. "The result of this jumble is that the street numbering system is to a large extent without value and is confusing," Postmaster H. E. Rice said Monday. "It is the result of placing numbers for a period of seventy-five years without following a definite system."

"Local retailers, making deliveries by auto or wagon, complain of incessant trouble in locating a purchaser when number only is given. 'This is due to the fact that on many streets, numbers are not given in sequence, have numbers not fitting their block or numbers hundreds in advance or behind the number of some near-by structure,' the postmaster said. The survey shows: Xenia's population without annexation, $9,110. With annexation, 10,110.

Embraced in the territory having 9,110 people are 3,171 points of mail delivery. They are divided among carriers as follows:

B. F. Eckerle, No. 1 419
J. H. Jones, No. 2 453
Harold B. Fetz, No. 3 558
Jos. P. McCormick, No. 4 428
Harry L. Clark, No. 5 415
George I. Gaines, No. 6 834
Lester A. Lane, No. 7 64
and with parcel post all others. Total 3,171

Postmaster Rice wishes to emphasize the fact that to facilitate mail delivery and to insure safe delivery of mail every patron should at once provide himself with a mail receptacle.

On the rural routes out of Xenia 4,735 people receive mail. This added to those on city delivery routes makes a total of 13,845 people receiving mail directly through the Xenia post office. Through the holiday season some families receive 25 or more Christmas parcels. Averaging the number at two each person, the Xenia post office will through the Christmas season, covering about seven days, receive 25,000 parcels.

Postmaster Rice has just completed the semi-annual inspection of rural routes, riding more than 250 miles to do so. All roads, except four, were found in good condition. The County Commissioners, he says, have shown a fine spirit of co-operation in getting and keeping the mail routes in good condition. According to Mr. Rice an appropriation of $800 has just been made to repair the Smith-Turner road on rural route 9. This goes past the Collins pheasant farm and has never had any gravel on it. An appropriation was also made to fix a bad road at Mt. Tabor on rural route No. 8. In addition a bridge has been put in over a small run, near the Talbot farm, on route 7. This run has been without a bridge and at times could not be forded.

With these improvements it is hoped to maintain fast auto service the year around. Nine of the rural routes are now covered by auto with the result that service on them is completed by or before noon each day.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY LAURA A. KIRKMAN

ANSWERED LETTERS

A Steady Reader: "A friend I visited recently in another part of the country served a fruit gelatin dessert covered with a sort of marshmallow sauce. I asked her if she made it by melting up marshmallow candies, and she replied, 'No, I buy it in cans; it costs about 30 cents.' Can you tell me in your column of a firm that will sell me this marshmallow paste or sauce by mail?"

Answer: I can not give trade names in my column, as that is advertising, but if you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I will gladly send you such an address.

Constant Reader: "I have lost your directions for setting color in a garment before washing. Will you please print these again?"

Answer: The substances used to set color are called "mordants." The common household mordants are salt, vinegar, alum and sugar of lead. Vinegar is the best mordant to use for greens (1-2 cup of vinegar to a gallon of water); for pinks, use 2 ounces of powdered alum dissolved in a tubful of water; strong salt water is best for blues; and for yellows and reds dissolve 1 ounce of sugar of lead in 8 quarts of water (sugar of lead is poisonous so care must be taken in using it). Soak the garment over night in the water to which one of these mordants has been added, then dry thoroughly before washing.

V. M.: "I have a Sunday School class of little girls about 12 years of age. Can you suggest some pretty and inexpensive gifts I could make for them for Christmas?"

Answer: Little girls like pretty bead chains or small silk coin-purses decorated with beads, and you might make these without much cost. But if I were you I would take them all to the movies together as a Christmas present, or give them a candy-making party at your home. I think they would like this kind of Christmas gift better even than hand made presents.

Constant Reader: "Why do bed bugs get into the house, even when it is kept clean? And what can I do to exterminate them?"

Answer: Sometimes these pests get into the walls of a house and then the only thing to do is to re-plaster, re-paper and fill up all floor and base-board cracks. Sometimes they enter a house on clothing or laundry (they may be picked up on trains or in contact with other people in a crowd.)

Kerosene, gasoline and benzine are all effective in killing them, but these fluids must not be used near heat or flame as they are extremely inflammable. Boiling water also kills the bugs and their eggs, but this stains furniture and cannot be applied to walls and mattresses as gasoline can (gasoline evaporates quickly). A mixture of 1 ounce of corrosive sublimate, 1 pint of alcohol and 1-4 pint of spirits of turpentine (have your druggist make it up for you) is another fluid that will kill them, though care must be exerted in using this as it is a deadly poison.

NO LOWERED RATES

Columbus, Nov. 8.—That it will be at least five years before telephone rates will be reduced is the opinion expressed by telephone men who attended the district meeting of the Ohio Independent Telephone Association here. They explained that existing plants must be put in proper condition. The public's demand for increasing improvements, speakers said, has made reductions difficult.

SEVERELY INJURED

New London, Nov. 8.—Charles McClave, banker and former state assemblyman, was severely injured when an auto skidded on a slippery pavement and turned turtle. Two others in the machine escaped with slight injuries.

OVERCOME BY FUMES

Elyria, Nov. 8.—Overcome by fumes while painting the inside of the water tank of the Western Automobile Machine Screw Company, 100 feet above the ground, Almont Walters was rescued from the water by firemen who, with the aid of a pulmotor resuscitated him.

EVANS TRIPLE PHOSPHATES WITH MEALS RESTORES ENERGY, APPETITE AND AMBITION

Begin Today—Weigh Yourself Before Starting the Treatment and Let the Scales Tell the Story of Increased—Weight, Strong, Steady Nerves and Better Health—Guaranteed.

Not seriously ill at such times, but sadly out of balance. People whose strength has been sapped by confinement to home, store or office or by an attack of influenza, grippe or other wasting sickness, and who feel the need of more strength, better assimilation and a quick effective toning up of the nerves and body will find nothing to compare with Evans' Triple Phosphates. It's really wonderful what this famous tonic will do for frail, run-down people who have lost all appetite and ambition. If you want to see the glow of healthy blood in your cheeks, have bright eyes and be full of energy and ambition, start taking Evans' Triple Phosphates today. It will quickly regenerate and vitalize your entire system—enrich the blood, tone up the nerves and banish utterly that feeling of weakness and depression. Remember that in taking Evans' Triple Phosphates you are not experimenting with an untried "cure all"; you are taking something that thousands of physicians are using and prescribing every day for just such cases as yours! Sayre & Hemphill and Sohn's Drug Store and all good druggists dispense it in the original package. Caution: While Evans' Triple Phosphates accomplishes wonders as a general nerve tonic, don't take it if you have any objections to putting on several pounds of good solid flesh. It will do this in nine cases out of ten.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD ON SUNDAY

Funeral services for Charles Straley, prominent farmer of near Jamestown, were held at the Methodist Church of Jamestown, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, in charge of the Rev. Haushar, of the Edgefield Methodist Church, and the Rev. Cooper of the Jamestown Methodist Church.

Mr. Straley passed away at his home in Jamestown, Friday, after a two weeks' illness, suffering from anemic trouble. He was born and reared on the Straley farm four miles east of Jamestown. The Straley family was one of the old pioneer families of the vicinity.

He was married to Miss Emma P. Tolliver, of Jamestown, October 27, 1885. He is survived by his widow, and the following children, Mrs. Margaret Heironimus, of Jamestown; Mrs. Mary Custer, of Jeffersonville; Mrs. Faishe Ireland, of Xenia; and Miss Ruth and Charles Herbert, at home. Another daughter, Mary, died about three years ago. The following brothers and sisters also survive, Mrs. S. M. Garringer, of Jamestown; Mrs. Orlando Tobin, of Jamestown; Mrs. Oliver Garringer, of Washington C. H., and William Straley, of Dayton. A brother, Frank Straley, died about four years ago.

Interment was made at the Jamestown cemetery. Pallbearers were members of the I. O. O. F. Lodge, at Millersville, of which Mr. Straley was a member.
